Make asking the questions even more fun:

- 1. Take turns asking and answering questions around the lunch or dinner table.
- 2. Ask a question, then throw a ball to someone who gets to answer.
- 3. Ask the question in a silly voice (just like Jonathan our podcast host).
- 4. Hide the questions around the house or classroom and whoever finds a question gets to ask it.
- 5. Put the questions on slips of paper and let kids randomly pick one to answer.
